Structured Literacy

How we learn letters and sounds.

In our last newsletter we explained phonological awareness and why it provides the foundation of learning to read and write. Today's newsletter explains how we learn letter sounds and how this supports our reading and writing development.

At Deanwell School we actively teach groups of letters in a specific order. This is called a Scope and Sequence.

Starting with Stage 1 children learn the letter sounds and symbols for each letter. Children need to be able to say and write each of these sounds.

Children need to be able to say/write simple 3 letter words with these sounds such as sit fat tap map by breaking the sounds apart and putting them back together. At the end of Stage 1 we start reading our first decodable book.

We use books from Little Learners Love Literacy and Sunshine Decodables.

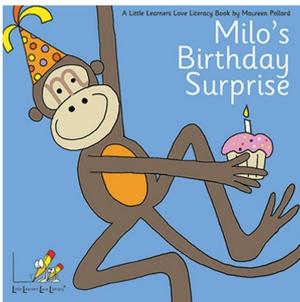

We also learn heart words at each stage. Heart Words are additional words we need to know to be able to make a sentence.

STAGE 3 Heart Words

he	she
we	to do	was

In Junior School Milo and his friends help us to learn the sounds.

Jack the jellyfish

Eddy the elephant

Izzy the insect

Harry the hippopotamus

Peter the penguin

To be able to read this book I need to know all my Stage 1 and 2 letter sounds. If I am unsure of a word I can use my sounds to help me. I do not guess!

What is a decodable book?

Nat and Sam sit on a log. Nat's rod is in. Sam's is in, too.
